

MASS MEETING CALLED.

Mining Men Think It Is Time to Act.

The Meeting Will Be Held at the Theatre Next Wednesday Night—One and Half Hours.

The importance of the silver issue is now fully realized by the people of Utah, and the disastrous effects which have followed the demonstration of the white metal are being felt. The problem presented is one in which all are interested, and the following call for a mass meeting is certain to bring out a very large attendance.

To the people of Utah.
The financial depression caused by the practical demonization of silver and the reduction of that metal to a commercial commodity is seriously affecting the trade of Utah, paralyzing industries, destroying business, depriving the laboring classes of employment and the means of gaining a livelihood, and threatening all classes of this community with a more serious disaster than has ever before befallen our people.
A special session of Congress having been called by the president for August 7, 1893, for the purpose of considering the financial situation of the country, it has been deemed advisable that the citizens of Utah assemble in mass convention for the purpose of exchanging views on the subject, and discussing the problem which is presented, in the hopes that ideas may be advanced and suggestions presented which will aid our representatives in Congress in preventing the impending disaster and bringing about a wise solution of the trouble which is upon the country.

The mass meeting will be held at the Salt Lake theatre on Wednesday evening, July 12, 1893, at 8 o'clock p. m. and all who are interested in the welfare of the country are cordially invited to attend.

GOSSIP OF THE TOWN.

Judge Colborn is most enthusiastic over the climate of Utah. He is firmly convinced that there is nothing in the world so great as ever been made to bring this feature before the country. Colorado people, he says, have for years been persistently boasting the climate of that state, and the effort has gained for Colorado thousands of desirable residents. Now the judge has a plan for making capital out of Utah climate, and it is a good one. He has his eye upon two climatologists of world wide fame, one in New York and the other in London, and his scheme is to bring one of those gentlemen to Utah, have him investigate the subject thoroughly and then have him set forth his conclusions in a series of articles to be published in the leading medical journals of the world, the entire expense to be met by popular subscription. The judge has talked the plan over with some leading business men and all agree that it is an excellent one.

W. G. Van Horne thinks that his rights have been invaded by one of the blue-coated preservers of the peace, and his American blood is up. Will has his law office and bachelor apartments over Joslin & Park's, occupying the entire front of the second floor. On Friday night he took a seat on the step at the foot of the stairs leading to his rooms, and in such a position that no part of his anatomy extended into the street further than the show windows and other projections on either side of him. While thus seated and enjoying the balmy breeze, a blue-coated guardian of the peace approached and gruffly ordered the disciple of Blackstone to get up. Mr. Van Horne made known to the officer that he was a citizen of the United States, and that he was entitled to sit on his own door step and declined to get up. The officer then resorted to force, and the attorney refused to budge; now he puts in all his spare time in sitting on that step waiting for some one to arrest him.

B. F. Grant must be something of a hustler in the life insurance business. Some time ago the company which he represents decided that its agents who secured the most business during the months of April, May and June should take in the World's fair in style at the company's expense, and Mr. Grant proved to be one of the lucky ten. He left yesterday to do the greatest show on earth, and while in Chicago will attend a convention of insurance agents.

"The object of the needle work guild," said Mrs. W. A. Nelson, the able president of the Salt Lake branch, yesterday, "and the purpose of the guild are not new, but our plan of procedure is. All we require for membership is the payment of the initiation fee, ten cents, a promise to pay the yearly dues of ten cents and the contribution of two new garments annually. The garments may be anything the donor wishes to give, but they must be new. The history of the organization? Well, the guild was organized by Lady Wolcott of England, and grew rapidly in that country. The American branch was organized in 1885 with the central bureau in Philadelphia. The Salt Lake branch was organized last May. The secretary is Mrs. George Ryan; the treasurer, Mrs. Walter Murphy; the honorary president Mrs. Margaret Blaine Salisbury. The organization is non-sectarian. All the religious denominations are represented. Now as to our plan of procedure: Early in October we send circulars to the various hospitals and benevolent institutions of the city asking what kind of garments and how many are needed. The last week of October we send out the garments we have collected, supplying the needs, as nearly as we can, of each institution. The requirements of the guild will not be irksome to any of the members. It is not a sewing society. We have never held fairs. We think it is a systematic way of helping the poor. You can see it is a direct way."

"The guild is composed of ten sections in this city. Each section has fifty-five members. The officers of each section are a president, secretary and three directors."

ADASTARDY OUTRAGE.

Two Men Tortured by Robbers to Give Up Their Wealth.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 8.—A State Register special from Pittsfield, Ill., says: A dastardly outrage was committed in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill. Two Frenchmen named Joseph and Frank Reigner were supposed to have considerable money about the house and two white men and one negro who it is thought were directed from Clarksville, Mo., on Thursday evening drove to the house and drawing revolvers covered and gagged Frank Reigner and told his brother to hand over the money. He gave them his pocket book, but they were not satisfied. Then they hung him up by the neck and as he still continued obstinate they applied flames to his back and shoulders.

After three hours torture he finally revealed the hiding place, and the robbers secured $3,000 in money and valuable papers. Great excitement prevails, and the sheriff and posse are searching for the desperadoes.

TROUBLE FEARED.

An Attempt to Run Colored People Out of Sikeston.

DEXTER, Mo., July 8.—News was brought here this afternoon that great excitement prevails in the vicinity of Sikeston, where the Negro miller who murdered the Ray girls near Bardwell, Ky., was captured, and that an effort would be made tonight to run the negroes out of that locality. There will be a great excitement here, as there are many old citizens and farmers that employ a large amount of Negro labor and will defend the Negroes, while many others favor moving them. It is impossible now to secure confirmation from Sikeston.

EMBEZZLER MOTHER SENTENCED.

OMAHA, July 8.—C. W. Mosher, president of the defunct Capital National bank of Lincoln, was this morning sentenced to five years in the Sioux Falls (S. D.) penitentiary, where federal criminals of this district are confined. It is estimated that Mosher embezzled over $200,000.

Remember in Speaking.

To speak in chest tones.
To pronounce vowel sounds correctly.
To say "It is I," and "He went with me."

To speak distinctly, but softly and slowly.
To pronounce the o in "stone" like that in "go."

To give each syllable its proper value or length.
To say "waistcoat" and "trousers," and not "waist" and "trousers."

For an inferior to say "sir" or "madam" in speaking to a superior.
To say "memorandum" in the singular and "memoranda" in the plural.

To avoid coarseness and rudeness of speech and language and harsh laughter.
To pronounce the letter r in words where it occurs, as in "arm," "girl," "rubber."

To lower the voice and speak slowly when one wishes to enforce one's authority.
To train children carefully to read aloud, both for the sake of the voice and the pronunciation.

To avoid the overdelicacy of language and affectation of precision which belong to persons of narrow culture.
To say "sir" or "madam" if one have occasion to address a stranger, using the word "madam" for a single as well as for a married lady.

To pronounce correctly, studying not only the dictionary but the language of living speakers who are entitled to speak with authority.
To pronounce in English fashion the names of foreign places and persons which have become Anglicized, as Paris, Vienna, Napoleon.

To teach children to say, "Yes, mother (or father)," and "No, mother," and to say, "Yes, sir," and "No, sir," to people or to those who adhere to the old ways of speech.

To remember that slang is unmeaning as well as inelegant, and that words like "folly," "beast," "idiot," "fool," "stupid" and out of season soon lose all their meaning.

To use the words "man" and "woman" in many instances where formerly one would have said "lady" and "gentleman." The latter words having largely lost their significance from excessive use—or abuse. The phrase "Mrs. Ames is a charming woman" would now be preferred to "Mrs. Ames is a charming lady."

AFTER SIX YEARS

Of Constant Pain and Annoyance Miss Rachel Rawlinson Relates Her Experience in Seeking Relief.

My trouble came as a sequel of constant and repeated colds in the head I am satisfied, for during the past six years the following annoying symptoms were constantly with me, said Miss Rawlinson to the writer.
Headaches were constant and painful, especially over the eyes and on top of the head. There was constant ringing and roaring sounds in each ear, it seemed as though bells were ringing and steam escaping both at the same time.

MISS RACHEL RAWLINSON, OAK CREEK, UTAH.

I was constantly annoyed by the dropping of mucus in the throat from behind the palate, causing a hacking and coughing to keep the throat clear and to enable me to speak distinctly. Nose was constantly stopped up and during damp weather could not breathe through it. Eyes were weak and watery and an hour's work would cause them to smart and burn. My appetite was very irregular, some days I would have no control over it. I would eat heartily, overeat my stomach, and come next day feel distressed and miserable, again I would feel hungry all day and feel stupid, languid and tired.

My stomach caused me a considerable anxiety as it was constantly formed no matter how or what food I ate. A sour, bitter taste was constantly in my mouth, especially so in the morning.

I tried various plans and sure cures for my troubles and it is needless to say failure was the only result, until I went to the Copeland Medical Institute in the Progress Building, and placed myself under their care. My relief was constant and steady. All my catarrhal symptoms have left me, and after six years of sickness I am rejoiced to once more feel a relieved and contented person.

Now to those who have doubts as to the merits of Dr. DeMonco's new system of treatment would say, you have only to give it a thorough trial as I have to be convinced of its success.
